LAST CHANCE TO RECEIVE ENERGY ASSISTANCE FUNDS

Local families may still apply for utility assistance through Sept. 30

Oregon Coast Community Action is urging local families struggling with high utility bills to take advantage of the final weeks to apply for the Low Income Energy Assistance Program. On Sept. 30, the current energy "season" will be closed and funding will no longer be available to those in need in our community.

Anyone struggling with high utility bills, that may qualify for the LIEAP program and who have not currently received assistance payments or crisis funds, should to contact Oregon Coast Community Action as soon as possible. ORCCA staff are available to discuss energy assistance, crisis payments and eligibility information.

Those who have received a shut off notice should contact Community Action for immediate assistance: Coos Bay office (541) 888-1574; Brookings office (541) 469-3155.

Many working families may qualify for energy assistance funds if their income falls below the eligibility standards required by the state of Oregon. For example, a family of four with an income of $3,241 or less per month qualifies for assistance paying for utility bills, propane or the costs of any energy needed to heat a home. Also, families with income that does not meet the current eligibility standards but may be struggling with high housing and heating costs could also qualify for assistance.

To apply for assistance with utility bills, community members should bring: proof of identification, their most recent utility bill, Social Security cards for everyone living in their home, and 90 days proof of income for all household members. Families that are eligible for energy assistance or crisis payments will receive help as quickly as possible.

"There are many more people facing hunger, there are many more people seeking help with housing or electric bills - and we are doing our best to make sure they stay fed, housed and warm," said Mary Schoen-Clark, CEO of Oregon Coast Community Action. "Everyone in our community can be part of the solution during these troubled economic times, each donation and every volunteer makes a difference in the lives of our neighbors."

The Energy Services Division of Community Action, which is partially funded by the Federal Low Income Energy Assistance Program (LIEAP), Oregon Housing & Community Services, Pacific Power, and utility vendors in Coos & Curry counties, provides assistance and education to families in Coos and Curry counties.

Oregon Coast Community Action provides a variety of services that house, feed, warm and educate vulnerable families on the South Coast. For more information, visit www.orcca.us or call 888-1574.
