TO THE EDITOR:
The voice of the voters could be quashed. A successful recall of Mr. Stufflebean will rescind the vote of all those who voted for him. The remaining 2 commissioners will choose his replacement. And if they cannot agree, our wonderful governor will get to select the successor. This is the same governor who is anti-growth, pro big government, and supports the 1-5 corridor folks against all the rest of Oregon. Coos County is not an employment agency. Those who work in seasonal-type jobs should routinely expect to be laid off when bad weather or poor economic times come. Golf caddies move with the seasons; home builders and their crews are idle; private road building companies must either move their attentions to better climate or wait for the return of better weather and times.

I say thank heaven for Mr. Stufflebean, someone with the courage to do the hardest thing there must be for a supervisor, to tell someone there is no work for you, so I'm letting you go. Because he represents all of us within the county, I say bravo for having the fortitude to do what is right for all of us, even if it is at the expense of those who chose to work in a seasonal occupation. This saves the county hundreds of thousands of dollars a year, at a time when most of us are struggling to make our mortgages and pay our taxes. I for one, want to know my money is being shepherded as best as possible.

Your votes will count. Not voting is supporting the recall. If you want to retain local control over our commission, vote to retain Kevin Stufflebean.

TO THE EDITOR:

For years I have watched Kevin Stufflebean faithfully serve his community. He has consistently worked hard for those that elected him, and has conducted himself with honesty and integrity. Throughout his years on the Coos Bay City Council, and now as a Coos County Commissioner, Kevin has had to make some very difficult decisions. As people who have been elected to public office know, such responsibility comes with the territory.

When serving on the Coos Bay School Board, because of deep financial cuts, our board members were charged with the terrible task of closing elementary schools. Those were painful and controversial, but necessary decisions. Some district patrons disagreed with the choices we made and let the board members know. That is as it should be. But I'm disheartened and concerned that some disgruntled individuals in Coos County who don't support the commissions prudent decisions think Kevin should be recalled. I disagree!

These are hard times. Kevin did what the voters have every right to expect of their elected officials; with his fellow commissioners he carefully weighed the financial issues facing the county and made a difficult choice that effected the road department. In the process Kevin and his fellow commissioners decided how to balance the needs of county residents while considering the devastating decline in revenue the county is facing.

I am also dismayed that people who are concerned about expenditures are forcing the county to spend tens of thousands of dollars on this recall election.. funds that could be put to any number of more beneficial purposes within our community. Voters elect people to serve on boards and commissions. We all expect those elected to use their good judgment to face the difficult choices that their offices sometimes require. If you disagree with an action - speak up! But also please acknowledge the responsibility and the authority your elected officials have to make those tough calls during their term of service.

I urge you to vote, and vote no on the recall. Keep Kevin Stufflebean in office.

Caddy McKeown, Coos Bay
